

🔥 Keep Your Dryer Safe & Efficient! 🔥

Prevent Fires • Save Energy • Dry Faster

📏 Fun Fact: One load of laundry = up to ½ cup of lint!

Why It Matters

A clogged dryer vent or lint trap is one of the leading causes of house fires. Regular cleaning helps your dryer:

- Stay safe
- Run efficiently
- Last longer

What Are Dryer Vents & Lint Traps?

Your dryer has two key areas that collect lint:

- The lint trap, a screen inside the dryer that catches fuzz from clothes
- The dryer vent, a hose-like tube that sends hot air (and leftover lint) outside your home

Cleaning both is essential to keep your dryer running safely and efficiently.

Why Clean Both?

- Prevent Fires – Lint is highly flammable. A clean trap and vent are your best defense.
- Save Money & Time – A clear vent allows faster drying and reduces energy use.
- Extend Dryer Life – Less strain on your dryer helps it last longer.
- Improve Air Quality – Blockages can lead to moisture buildup and mold.

How Often Should You Clean?

- Lint Trap: Clean before or after every load
- Dryer Vent: Clean at least once per year
  - If you do lots of laundry, clean it every 6 months

⚠ Warning Signs – Clean NOW if You Notice:

- Clothes take longer than usual to dry
- Burning smell during or after drying
- Dryer feels hot to the touch
- Visible lint around the dryer or exterior vent

Quick Cleaning Steps

Step	Action	Why It Matters
Unplug the Dryer 🔌	Disconnect power before cleaning	Ensures your safety during all cleaning steps
Clean the Lint Trap 🫧	Remove visible lint after every use Wash screen with warm, soapy water occasionally and let dry completely Vacuum inside trap slot	Prevents lint buildup and improves dryer performance
Clean the Vent Opening	Vacuum vent at back of dryer Check and clear the outdoor vent flap	Keeps airflow strong and prevents blockages
Deeper Cleaning 🤏	Use a long vent brush Hire a professional for long or hard-to-reach vents	Removes hidden lint and reduces fire risk in complex vent paths
Extra Tips 🔍	Check your user manual for dryer specific instructions Inspect your lint screen for damages

Stay Safe. Stay Efficient. Keep Drying Smart!

Cleaning your lint trap before every load and your dryer vent regularly is a simple habit that protects your home and your wallet.
